| Caviro is the most representative wine cooperative of the Italian territory . It was born in 1966 in Faenza, in the heart of Emilia-Romagna, to enhance the members' grapes in a land where wine is a vocation, identity and excellence. Today Caviro, with its 12,800 winemakers in 7 regions and 10% of the Italian grapes supplied is, in fact, the largest winery in Italy. |                                                                                     |                                                            |                               |               |                   |      |         |                         |                            |         |

|    | San Marzano is a small village in the centre of the Primitivo di Manduria DOC region, a strip of land kissed by the two seas of the Salento: the Ionian and the Adriatic. In 1962 the DOC appellation did not yet exist, and the Primitivo di Manduria was far from becoming a cult wine for wine lovers. Even so, 19 winemakers came together to follow a dream and founded Cantine San Marzano.                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                         |                               |       |                      |      |         |                     |                               |           |

|  | Luccarelli wines are crafted in a large, ultra-modern facility called Terre di Sava, in the village of Sava, which is a stone's throw from the town of Manduria - the heart of the Primitivo di Manduria zone. Just down the road is Salice Salentino. Puglia is 350 km long; exceedingly warm in the summer time, it is the "heel" of the boot that is Italy. In the area of Manduria, Primitivo reigns while in Salice Salentino the main grape is Negroamaro, said to have dominated the Salice vineyard since the 6th Century BC. Luccarelli sources grapes from hundreds of local growers. |                                                                         |                               |       |                      |      |         |                     |                               |           |

Selected and set aside for their aromatic potential, these wines are destined to play a role in the blending of a Charles Heidsieck champagne. A Brut Réserve cuvée contains a large proportion of reserve wines, representing an average of 10 years of ageing. A blend pledging an unparalleled texture, a signature of the Charles style. |                                        |           |                        |          |                          |                     |             |           |

Dourthe's involvement at every stage of its production is truly pioneering. Created in 1988 and stemming from an encounter between Denis Dubordieu, Bordeaux's 'godfather of white wines' and our partner growers, N°1 is above all the fruit of a dedicated team committed to revealing the truest expression of each appellation.                                 |                                        |           |                        |          |                          |                     |             |           |

|  In 1950, Huguette and Angelo Fontana, then in their twenties, followed a dream and settled in the small Gironde village of Gensac to found what would become Domaines Fontana. Over the generations, this heritage has grown, and by 2021, Domaines Fontana spanned more than 300 hectares. The new generation has brought with them a modern spirit, fresh perspectives, energy, and youth — all united by a shared passion for vines and wine.                                                                                                            |                                                                                     |                                                      |                                                 |       |                   |          |                              |                         |             |           |

|  Over time, Maison Louis Latour has set an ideal of perfection in our winemaking. For two centuries, over 100 appellations have been crafted with the greatest of care each year, to reveal all their complexity. The Louis Latour style is an auspicious combination of the richness of nature and the skill of man's labour. We respect the natural rhythm of the vines and make our wines in harmony with their nature, with the aim of offering full expression to the elegance and the balance of the great terroirs of Bourgogne.                    |                                                                                     |                                                      |                                                 |       |                   |          |                              |                         |             |           |

|                        |    | Chartron et Trébuchet has traditionally been based in the Golden Triangle in the Côte de Beaune: the villages of Meursault, Puligny-Montrachet and Chassagne-Montrachet form an inseparable trio for all wine connoisseurs. Adjacent to the grand crus of Montrachet and Bâtard-Montrachet, they have become symbolic of the name of Chartron et Trébuchet throughout the world.                                                                                         |                                          |           |                   |          |         |                     |                      |           |

|                        |  | When internationally recognized winemaker Paul Hobbs and 4th generation Cahors vintner Bertrand Gabriel Vigouroux decided to work together, they set out to offer a coming soon interpretation of the Malbec of Cahors, melding modernity and tradition. This collaboration between the coming soon and the old world became Crocus wines, a quest to redefine Malbec in its birthplace.                                                                                 |                                          |           |                   |          |         |                     |                      |           |

|    | Family-owned for over 200 years, the winery has been managed by Ernst F. Loosen since 1988. Great wines, he believes, are the perfect expression of soil, climate and grape variety. With the heritage of his ancestors - old vines, true to their roots, in historic Grand Cru sites of the Middle Mosel – he found exactly the material he needed to produce independent, complex wines of world class.                                                                                                         |                                                                     |                                            |       |                           |          |         |                          |             |           |

|    | The Hope family has been farming in Paso Robles for more than 30 years. When they arrived in this barely-discovered region, they planted apples and grapes. Little did they know that the rolling, oak-studded terrain of Paso Robles would one day become a viticultural terroir of significance and one of the top winegrowing regions for quality red wine within the Central Coast.                                                                                                                           |                                                                     |                                            |       |                           |          |         |                          |             |           |

|  | RobertMondaviestablished his namesake winery in 1966 with a vision to create Napa Valley wines that would stand in the company of the world’s finest. He chose To Kalon Vineyard in the heart of the Napa Valley as the home for Robert Mondavi Winery. This first-growth vineyard, located in Oakville, California, is renowned for producing some of the finest Cabernet Sauvignon wines in the world, as well as for its Sauvignon Blanc grapes, from which Mr. Mondavi crafted his signature wine, Fume Blanc |                                                                     |                                            |       |                           |          |         |                          |             |           |

| Lapostolle was founded by Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle and her husband Cyril de Bournet in 1994. After visiting Chile, thy not only fell in love with the Apalta Valley, but also detected the enormous potential of the country to produce high quality wines due to its exceptional geographical and climatic characteristics. Today, the business is headed by the seventh generation, Charles de Bournet. |                                                                                     |                                                         |                                                                 |       |                        |          |                            |                     |             |           |

| In 1994, after months of research, Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle and her husband, Cyril de Bournet, discovered the Apalta Valley. Clos Apalta is a state-of-the-art winery built to amplify Apalta's unique terroir through a lens of legendary French winemaking expertise. Clos Apalta is among South America's most iconic producers.                                                                       |                                                                                     |                                                         |                                                                 |       |                        |          |                            |                     |             |           |

|                  |    | Enemigo thrives in the thrill of experimentation and delights in the new and unconventional. It was born from a desire to carve a unique path and a shared obsession with terroir, each bottle an unfettered song to the wild, free-spirited soul. The wines reflect the freshness and character of each individual vineyard: a pure expression of terroir. |                                                                        |       |                        |      |         |                     |             |           |

|  Founded in 1994, Torbreck was created with the aim of building one of the finest wine estates in the world. Its vision is to pay homage to the vineyards of the Barossa Valley, home to some of the oldest vines on the planet. In fact they remind themselves every day that the best Barossa grapes are yet to be picked and the finest Torbreck wines are yet to be made.                                                                             |                                                                                     |                                              |                                                          |       |                        |          |         |                         |                             |            |

|  Barramundi comes from the Murray Darling Region of Victoria, where two of Australia's greatest rivers meet. It means Barramundi's vineyards are supplied with constant water, which is just as well, as there's hardly any rainfall during the growing season! Just endless days of sunshine! And there's bloody good soil too! Soil that produces rich, ripe berry fruit flavours. It's a beautiful part of the world — especially if you're a grape. |                                                                                     |                                              |                                                          |       |                        |          |         |                         |                             |            |

|  Kim Crawford is one of New Zealand's most exciting and innovative wine producers. The winery started out in a small cottage in Auckland, New Zealand and since its launch in 1996, the label has gained critical acclaim around the globe. They do things unconventionally, take risks, start things and welcome different.                                                                             |                                                                                     |                                      |                 |       |                        |          |             |                     |             |           |

|  The Royal Tokaji Company is a relatively recent addition to the ranks of Tokaj producers, having been founded in the Hungarian village of Mád in 1990. Acclaimed wine writer Hugh Johnson teamed up with Ben Howkins and winemaker Peter Vinding-Diers to found the company, after Johnson found the region to be not meeting its potential. Now, it is one of the most famous producers in the region. |                                                                                     |                                      |                 |       |                        |          |             |                     |             |           |
